The “Phenomenological” Response

STEP 1

Talk about your responses to the following questions.

A. “Gut” response: How did watching the film affect you — your body, your feelings and your thoughts?

B. “Storyline” response: How do you make sense of and/or experience — the way the story was told through film — it’s use of characters, images, sounds, music, etc?

C. “Values” response: How do you make sense of and/or experience the values, the important or significant ideas that appear to be portrayed in the film?

STEP 2

After the film as you feel led talk about your “gut”, “storyline” and “values” response with the group.

Remember we all tend to see and experience things differently, watching a film is a subjective experience. There are many interpretations that can be discussed. There are no right or wrong answers — just diverse responses and insights.
